COUNTRY MUSIC STAR BLAKE SHELTON WILL TAKE THE STAGE AT FIRELAKE GRAND CASINO

SHAWNEE, OKLA. Jan. 23, 2007 -- Country music heartthrob and Oklahoma native Blake Shelton is set to take the stage at FireLake Grand Casino Monday, January 29 at 7pm.

The singer-songwriter, known for his honky-tonk drinking songs, is back with a new, "pure" take on his music in fourth album Pure BS. According to his web site, Shelton stepped out of his comfort zone for this album to find a sound that put more emphasis on his vocal talent while featuring his songwriting skills. The first single from Pure BS, "Don't Make Me," is already a huge success and there are sure to be many more to come.

"Blake Shelton brings an exciting, unique energy to his performances with a sound that breaks out of the Nashville country music mold," said Brad Peltier, Marketing Director of FireLake Grand Casino. "Our patrons are excited to see him and we are thrilled to welcome Blake to our stage here at FireLake Grand."

Tickets are on sale now at the FireLake Grand Casino gift shop, or by calling 405-96-GRAND. Prices range from $19 to $59. Ticket holders must be 21 or older.
